The needs of Indonesian people who in fact like food that tastes spicy make this one restaurant a prima donna and it is always crowded with customers. Not only does the food taste very good, this restaurant offers very affordable prices, making this restaurant full, not only regular customers, but also full of online motorcycle taxi orders. With a modern interior, it makes added value for this restaurant, many of the visitors share their experiences on social media, which is a promotion that is very influential in purchasing this product.

With such a large influence of this restaurant on the needs and satisfaction of the community, the researcher wishes to study further related to the promotion and service strategy on customer satisfaction to become one of the references for the future regarding the factors that influence customer satisfaction.

From the description above, the formulation of the problem in this study is: "How is the marketing promotion strategy and service impact on customer satisfaction of gacoan noodles?". The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of marketing promotion strategies and to determine the impact of service on customer satisfaction.
LITERATURE REVIEW
This study examines matters relating to marketing and service promotion strategies on customer satisfaction at the Mie Gacoan Cirebon restaurant. Mie Gacoan Cirebon restaurant management must pay more attention to prices because discounted prices will make consumers want to come more, they will even invite friends or relatives to buy more products being sold and optimize services such as cashiers to services providing or finding comfortable seats. (Prasasti & Maisara, 2022). Quality of service quality has a significant effect on consumer loyalty in restaurants (Haryanto, 2013).

Price and service quality influence simultaneously on purchasing decisions. Price does not affect it significantly because many consumers do not pay attention to product prices when making purchases, even so Mie Gacoan's management still needs to consider providing price promos to attract consumer buying interest (Nuraini & Novitaningtyas, 2022)

From some of the existing literature, it turns out that it has not been able to provide a comprehensive discussion of marketing and service promotion strategies for customer satisfaction at the Cirebon gacoan noodle restaurant. Therefore, this journal exists to gather discussion from various sources to present a comprehensive understanding.

RESEARCH METHODS
This research method is qualitative research which is research that aims to understand the phenomenon of what is experienced by the research subject. For example behavior, perception, motivation, action and others. In terms of qualitative research, it has two main objectives, the first is to explain and reveal (descriptive and analytical) and the second is to describe and explain (explain and explain). This method can provide rich information about the reality being studied, which may be difficult to understand in words but very easy to apply. For the method of collecting data in this method, you can conduct interviews (Field, 2016).
